

Beginners course

Starting the 1st Cycle of FFVL's free Flying passport.

The first step to get the basic movements of piloting.

Guided by professional instructors, you will learn all the aspects of this sport. You will progress at your own pace and after a few days you will do your first solo flights in radio contact with your teacher.

The practice session is mainly in the morning when the aerological conditions are quiet. The afternoon is used to learn theoretical aspects of flying.

Program: Beginners course

4 to 5 days in a group from 4 to 10 people.

learning a passion

White, yellow and orange levels of the free flying passport of the French federation (beginning of the cycle 1).

1st to 3rd day :

- learning to control the wing on the ground on a small slope. First feeling of gliding and theoretical ideas.
- Learning to react automatically by repeating the basic movements.
- First sensation of taking off on a school slope, association of theory to the practice : notion of piloting and of a flight plan.

4th & 5th day:

- depending on your progression, first big solo flight (under the radio guidance of two teachers).
- Learning to respect the flight plan and theoretical aspects : analysing your flight.
- One or two flights each day depending on the weather conditions.

If we feel it is necessary, your first flight may be done with your instructor in a tandem. This pedagogic flight will put you in the real situation of flying with a maximum of security as your first flight is done with the teacher behind you.
